Theological Seminary.

The commencement exercises of the Theological Seminary of the Episcopal Church, near this city, took place this morning at ten o'clock, with Bishop Gibson presiding as president of the seminary. The alumni students and professors with the president formed in procession in Prayed Hall and marched to the chapel, the president and professors vested in their academic gowns. The president and professors took their seats in front of the chancel and the graduating class were seated in front pews. After singing the hymn for Divinity schools, "God of the Prophets, Bless the Prophets' Sons," and prayer by the president, the following essays were read:

"The Idea of an After Life in the book of Job," by Wilbur Cosby Bell, B. A. "Acceptance and Forgiveness by God the Father through faith and love or Justification by Faith," by Pierce N. McDonald, A. B. "The Muehlenberg Memorial," by Beverly D. Tucker, Jr., M. A. After the reading of the essays which were of unusual excellence, the names of the members of the middle and junior classes of this year who had passed their examinations successfully were next announced as advanced to the senior and middle classes of next session respectively. The following gentlemen were given certificates for successful work in all the departments of the Seminary course except Hebrew.—Robert Young Barber, Thomas Getz Hill, Luke M. White, George Peyton Craig, hill for all work in the course except Greek, and Sidney W. Cressy for successful work in certain departments. The graduates for this year, nine in number, next came forward and received their diplomas as follows: William Corby Bell, B. A., Albert E. Clattenburg, John F. Coleman, Walker M. Gage, Wythe L. Kinsolving, M. A., Pierce N. McDonald, B. A., Hugh W. S. Powers, William P. Remington B. S., and Beverly D. Tucker, Jr. M. A.

Rev. Packer Kennedy M. A., was declared a Bachelor in Divinity, and the diploma of the degree conferred upon him. As he was not present on account of the distance of his parish in West Virginia from the Seminary, the diploma will be sent to him. The address to the graduating class was then delivered by Rev. Landon Mason, of Richmond, after which the session of 1904-05 was declared closed by the President. The past session was most successful and the work done by the students generally of a high order. Many of the friends of relatives of the graduating class were present. Shortly after the close of the commencement exercises the annual meeting of the alumni of the Seminary was held in the chapel with Bishop Peterkin, of West Virginia, in the chair. The meeting was opened with prayer, followed by the reading of the essay by the Rev. W. H. Falkner, of St. Peter's Church, Baltimore. Business of a general nature was then transacted until half-past one, when the alumni repaired to the refectory for the annual dinner, at the conclusion of which a number of interesting speeches were made in response to the usual toasts. Further business was transacted, the alumni resuming its session at 3 p. m. A large number of members were in attendance, among whom were Revs. C. J. Holt, W. M. Dame, D. D., A. S. Lloyd, D. D., J. Tompkins Cole, W. M. Clark, Bishop Penick and Kenney J. Hammond. Bishop G. H. Kinsolving was at the Seminary yesterday, but was not able to remain over for the alumni meeting. The proceedings of the day were most interesting and enjoyed by alumni and friends. A reception was served in Whittle Hall to all visitors not alumni. A most interesting feature of this commencement was the re-union of the class of 1880, consisting of the Revs. W. M. Clark, E. L. Goodwin, W. W. Kimball, A. S. Lloyd, D. D., M. P. Logan, D. D., C. J. S. Mayo, W. G. McCready, D. D., T. J. Packard, D. D., and D. W. Wynn. The only one of the class deceased in Rev. M. T. Turner—a remarkable record for 25 years. The most distant members are Rev. D. W. Wynn, of St. Simon's, Georgia, and M. P. Logan, of Nashville, Tenn. Eusestus in Maryland and Virginia, except Rev. Dr. Lloyd, general secretary of the General Missionary Society of the Episcopal Church, resident in New York. Rev. W. M. Clark is editor of the old Southern Churchman, formerly published in this city.

River Notes.

Several of the large sand and gravel carrying scows belonging to one of the local sand dredging companies are at the shipyard to be given an overhauling and to be made ready for active service. The Washington-owned schooner Samuel Wood is on the big marine railway at Alexandria for extensive repairs to her hull, before she loads a cargo of railway ties for Philadelphia.

The rebuilding of Potomac's wharf (lower Cedar Point), on the Potomac, is rapidly approaching completion, and it will be ready for service within the next few days. As soon as the work is completed there the pile drivers and force of wharf builders will go to Colonial Beach to complete the pier there, the work on which was temporarily stopped for want of material. These wharves were badly damaged by drifting ice during the past winter.

The Anti-Expectorating Law.

The ordinances to prohibit expectorating or spitting on sidewalks, in public buildings, or on cars or coaches owned or operated by common carriers in this city went into effect today. The law provides that any person violating the provisions of the ordinance shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction shall be fined not more than one dollar nor more than ten dollars for each offense. The ordinance was passed about a month ago and published officially in the Gazette the 30th ultimo; he

More Mimic War.

The mimic war which was precipitated Tuesday night between six and seven miles below this city was continued at intervals last night. Many people gathered on Windmill Hill, the eminence at Battery Rodgers and on the river front to witness from afar the workings of the searchlights, the glare of rockets and the flash of guns. The moon shone brightly and the shimmering Potomac never looked prettier. Shortly before ten o'clock searchlights at Forts Hunt and Washington, it is supposed, detected suspicious-looking vessels which were endeavoring to sneak by those strongholds, and the forts belched forth a rain of fire and forced them to run out of the range of the guns. This performance was kept up at intervals throughout the night. As was the case Tuesday evening, the excursion steamers from Washington and this city carried large crowds to River View and Marshall Hall from which points the "engagements" were witnessed to advantage. The steamers were running until a late hour.

The engagement closed with an attack at 5 o'clock this morning by the double-turreted monitor Terror and the converted gunboat Siren. The vessels moved up the river under cover of an almost impenetrable fog which rolled up stream from Marshall Hall shortly before 5 a. m. At 4:45 the signal station down the river had informed Col. Roberts at Fort Washington that the ships were advancing, but at 4:59 when the Terror rounded Marshall Point, according to telegraphic information, it was impossible to discern an object more than 3 miles below the fort. Under the circumstances Col. Roberts issued orders for an "independent action." Battery commanders immediately got their individual range finders busy and waited for the first appearance of the ships through the fog. The action commenced at 5:10 when Capt. Wilson, commanding the Mt. Vernon battery at Fort Hunt, had a glimpse through a rift in the mist of the Terror at 2,900 yards. He opened with his three 8-inch guns and fired ten rounds before the 12-inch batteries at Fort Washington found the range and commenced firing at the target.

A few minutes later the Siren was made out and both ships, as they sailed up the stream, received round after round from the batteries on both sides of the river. The range decreased, until, as the ships were passing the fort, the guns were being fired point blank. The order to cease firing was made at 5:38. Just after the boats passed, the fog lifted, having covered their advance all the way up. Above Fort Washington the boats turned and retired down the river. As they passed between the fortifications the artillerymen mounted the parapet and gave three cheers for the navy. The Terror replied by saluting with her fog horn. The Siren and Terror remained throughout the night below Marshall's Point and sent half a dozen white boats and barges into the nine-field to lift mines and countermines in preparation for this morning's attack. From 9:30 last evening until an hour and a half before this morning's attack these boats were being constantly picked up by the searchlights and the big guns and rapid fire batteries were figuratively peppering the sailors with a hail of shot. About 4 o'clock this morning a party of sailors landed at Fort Hunt dock. Later they said they came ashore for a drink of water. All landing parties, however, are prohibited in these exercises, so the commanding officer turned out a Krag-Jorgensen party and there was a theoretical hand-to-hand conflict between the gunners and the blue jackets, after which the sailors were permitted to return to their boats and go back to their ships. The conflictive result of the early morning battle was the utter demolition of the navy contingent and the second saving of the national capital. Shots were fired by the 8-inch battery in Fort Hunt in addition to 100 shots from the 12-inch guns across the river. Theoretically only 10 shots each were necessary to sink the Terror and Siren. The umpires fired rockets from shore to shore as each of the small boats during the night were constructively put out of action while they were engaged in removing mines.

Police Court.

[Justice H. B. Caton presiding.] The following cases were disposed of this morning: Richard Jackson, colored, arrested by Officer Young charged with assaulting James Diggs with a rock, was fined $5. James Reed, arrested by Lieutenant Smith and Officer Gill charged with deserting from the United States navy, was sent to the Washington authorities in charge of the last named officer. A white man, arrested by Officer Arrington charged with stealing one dollar from an up-town druggist, was fined $10. James Diggs, arrested by Lieutenant Smith charged with disorderly conduct, was fined $5. George Shirley, arrested by Officer Bettis charged with assaulting Maggie Allen, was fined $5.

Monitor Aground.

The monitor Puritan, the big practice ship of the Naval Battalion, D. C. N. G., is stranded on a bar at Point Lookout. The accident occurred in steaming around from Baltimore to take part in the attack on the river defenses of Washington. Coming around Point Lookout, by a miscalculation the monitor headed inside the buoy marking the turn from the bay into the Potomac, and ran upon a sand bar jutting out from the bay side. Her speed was high, and the vessel was sent well upon the bar. Her own engines reversed failed to get the monitor off, and the efforts of the William H. Yerkes, jr., a tug from Washington, to pull her off, brought no better results. Several tugs from Norfolk were sent to assist the boat. The Puritan was subsequently floated.

Remains Forwarded.

The remains of the late E. P. McLean, formerly deputy collector of internal revenue for this district, who died at the Alexandria Hospital at an early hour yesterday morning, were forwarded last night by Demain & Soa to the home of the deceased in Mecklenburg county where the interment will take place.

Hotel Fleischmann.

The statement made yesterday of the reported closing of the Hotel Fleischmann was somewhat misleading. The hotel will be kept open but on the European plan and will not be conducted on the American plan, as heretofore. No change will be made in the saloon or restaurant features of the hotel.

Weddings.

The wedding of Miss Elizabeth Magruder Dandenhower, of this city, and Mr. David N. Rust, Jr., of Alexandria county, which took place yesterday evening at Christ Church at 8:30 o'clock, was one of the prettiest marriages in Alexandria this season. A large number of friends of the bride and groom were present to witness the nuptial ceremony which was performed by Rev. William J. Morton, rector of Christ Church, assisted by Rev. Harry B. Lee, of Baltimore, brother-in-law of the groom. The church was beautifully decorated for the occasion, the chancel being banked with palms, ferns and flowers, and the over-arching galleries hung with green vines. During the ceremony Mr. Kenneth Ogden sang a solo, and the wedding march was sung by the Chapter of Priests, of which the bride is an active member. Mrs. Charles Lenton presiding at the organ. The bride wore a handsome gown of chiffon cloth built over white tulle and trimmed with duchess lace. She carried a shower bouquet of white roses and lilies of the valley. Her maid of honor was her sister, Miss Frances Dandenhower, who wore white net over yellow tulle and a yellow chiffon veil. Miss Dandenhower carried a shower bouquet of yellow roses tied with yellow tulle. The bridesmaids were Miss Bessie Jones, of this city; Miss Lucy Rust, of Alexandria county, sister of the groom; Miss Annie Voigt, of Norfolk, and Miss Kate Pretlow, of Franklin, Va. They were dressed in white net over white tulle, with yellow chiffon gloves, and carried bouquets of white sweet peas, tied with yellow tulle. Dr. Thomas L. Rust, brother of the groom, acted as best man, and the ushers were Frank Moss and Gardner L. Boothe, of this city. John Rust, of Alexandria county; Angus McDonald Crawford, of the Theological Seminary; Philip Dawson, of Fairfax, and Dr. Edgar Snowden immediately after the ceremony a reception was given at the residence of Miss Laura F. Smoot, aunt of the bride, 1009 King street. Later in the evening Mr. and Mrs. Rust left for a northern tour.

Mr. Robert A. Rollins, of Washington, and Miss Mary A. Acres, of Alexandria, were married at the home of the bride's aunt, Mrs. Margaret Green, No. 1009 Gibson street, yesterday evening, by Rev. J. P. Stump.

Miss Ruth V. Lyles and Mr. A. C. Slaymaker were quietly married last night at the home of the bride by Rev. J. P. Stump.

St. Mary's Academy.

The happy anticipations of many young hearts were yesterday realized when the graduating exercises of this popular educational institution took place. A large and select audience filled the Opera House when at three thirty the curtain rose upon a scene of loveliness. Stately palms and beautiful flowers in profusion adorned the front and side of the stage and for central setting nearly a hundred young girls robed in snowy white, who began the programme, which consisted of music, essays and physical culture exercises, all of which was admirably rendered. Miss Mae Williams and Miss Margaret Greene, of this city, received certificates of graduation and gold medals. The names of the others receiving distinctions were published in Tuesday's Gazette. Miss McWilliams read the valedictory. It was truly a poem, couched in musical perimeters. "On the Banks of the Storied Potomac." The last chorus in which all the senior pupils took part was a fitting close to an ably rendered programme. Rev. W. L. Sullivan, C. S. P., made the closing remarks. In beautiful language he tendered a glowing tribute of praise to the Sisters of the Holy Cross, the two graduates, and St. Mary's pupils upon all of whom he begged God's blessing for future success. Father Sullivan is no stranger here and his audience attested their esteem and appreciation of his kind remarks by continuous rounds of hearty applause.

Corporation Court.

[Judge L. C. Barley presiding.] James Constantinople, a native of Greece, was granted final naturalization papers.

H. B. Caton was substituted trustee under certain deeds of trusts in place of I. M. Kell, deceased.

R. C. Smeed was appointed trustee for Anna G. Smeed under the will of the late Wm. Gregory, in place of George Johnston, deceased.

The grand jury will meet at 7 o'clock this evening, when, if what leaks from the grand jury room is true, a report will be made placing the police force in a most unfavorable light.

Precipitated Into the Dock.

Two young women were precipitated into Mr. DeWitt Altheson's dock, between Prince and Duke streets, about half-past ten o'clock last night. They were speedily rescued. It seems that a small boat had been procured by three young men for the purpose of taking to witless ladies out into mid-stream to witness the glare from the mimic battle at Forts Washington and Hunt. The ladies were seated in the boat when by changing their positions they caused it to career and throw them into the water. The incident caused considerable excitement among the many persons who were on the river front at the time.

Wholesale Grocers.

The wholesale grocers and tobacconists' association of Tidewater Virginia is issuing circulars giving details of the convention in Norfolk next week of the Southern Wholesale Grocers' Association. Copies were mailed to probably 1,000 men in the south connected with the wholesale grocer's business. It is expected that fully four hundred delegates will be in attendance on the sessions of the convention. The railroads have made a rate for the convention of one fare for the round trip plus 25 cents, tickets being good for thirty days. Several of the firms in this city will be represented.

Burned by Live Wire.

Frank, the little son of Mr. Julian Bettis, had his hands burned by an electric wire near the corner of Wolfe and Pitt streets this morning. The wire had been prostrated, and the foot of the boy, who was barefoot, became entangled in the same. In using his hands to free his feet, the hands were painfully burned.

The regular business meeting of the Allison W. C. T. U. will be held tomorrow night at 8 o'clock at the Children's Home on Duke street.

Personal.

Miss Mary E. Carlin has gone to Elliott City, Md., to visit her sister, Mrs. William Fulton.

An approaching marriage of much interest is that of Miss Minna Irene Smithers to Mr. James Owen Reilly, of North Carolina, the marriage to take place Wednesday evening, June 21, at 8 o'clock at the home of the bride. No invitations were issued in this city, as the marriage ceremony will be witnessed by only the bride's most intimate friends.

Mr. H. B. Caton has returned from his vacation. He accompanied the Friendship Veteran Fire Association to Hagerstown, Md., and subsequently visited other cities.

Mr. Park Agnew has been elected a director of the Washington, Alexandria and Mt. Vernon Railway.

Mr. C. W. Howell and family have removed to their country home, "City View," Fairfax county, where they will spend the summer.

Deaths.

Mr. John T. Hunter, a former well-known resident of this city, died suddenly at his home in Washington this morning, aged 85 years. Mr. Hunter, it will be remembered, was for many years connected with the furniture firm of Wm. Muir. His remains will be brought here for interment, and the funeral will take place from the residence of his daughter, Mrs. F. G. Grimes, Sunday afternoon at 5 o'clock.

Mrs. Myrtle May Cleveland, wife of Mr. Thomas Cleveland, died in Washington yesterday. The deceased was a daughter of the late C. C. Chichester.

The Firemen.

We are in receipt of an invitation to attend the nineteenth annual convention of the Virginia State Firemen's Convention, which will be held at Harrisonburg, August 16, 17 and 18. An attractive tournament will be one of the features of the meeting. Many valuable prizes will be given. Mr. John H. Saum is President of the Association and J. E. Glenn is Secretary. The Reliance and Relief companies of this city expect to attend the convention.

Letter Carrier.

The Postoffice Department has authorized the appointment of an additional letter carrier for Alexandria, the service to begin July 1. Mr. Fred Pullman, it is understood, will receive the appointment.

LOCAL BREVITIES.

The regular weekly prayer meeting of the Allison W. C. T. U. will be held to-night at 8 o'clock at the Children's Home on Duke street.

An elderly gentleman named Kimball was stricken with apoplexy on north St. Asaph street this morning. Dr. Gorman placed him in his carriage and conveyed him to his home.

New York Stock Market.

A Fearful Fate.

It is a fearful fate to have to endure the terrible torture of Piles. A cure best for cuts, burns and injuries. 25c at E. S. Leadbeater & Sons Druggist."

Cuban Diarrhoea.

U. S. soldiers who served in Cuba during the Spanish war know what this disease is, and that ordinary remedies have little more effect than so much water. Cuban diarrhoea is almost as severe and dangerous as a mild attack of cholera. There is one remedy, however, that can always be depended upon as will be seen by the following certificate from Mrs. Minnie Jacobs of Houston, Texas: "I hereby certify Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy cured my husband of a severe attack of Cuban diarrhoea, which he brought home from Cuba. We had several doctors but they did him no good. One bottle of this remedy cured him, as our neighbors will testify. I thank God for so valuable a medicine." For sale by Gibson & Timberman and W. F. Creighton & Co.

CHINA, GLASS AND HOUSE FURNISHING GOODS. CHILDREN'S GUM Elevates the Standard of the Mason Jar.

Read Carefully

By using "Olden's Extra Heavy Jar Gums" you need no wrench to close or open your jars, consequently there will be no broken cap linings or tops of jars. See that the edge of the cap is smooth and even, then screw it down with your hands (use no wrench), and when the time comes to open the jar, pull the gum by the lip and it will easily slip off under the cap.

These rings are made double-thick and of an A-1 quality, hence we guarantee they will stay in position under the edge of the cap when placed in use, which is not the case with many of the cheap and thin cut gums. Try them and you will be convinced.

Furniture and Furnishings.

We have converted the sixth floor of our G street building into a mammoth showroom for all classes of Summer Furniture. It is by far the best exhibit we have ever had, and for beauty and comprehensiveness cannot be surpassed anywhere. Particularly broad is the display of Chairs, Rockers, Settees and Tables.

The most largely represented line, perhaps, is the Wicker Furniture, made from the large, heavy, pliable reeds of China and India. These are stained in a large variety of hues.

Still another variety of our own American Furniture is formed from the Silver Birch of the Adirondacks, which makes charming pieces for porch and lawn. The frames of the chairs, rockers, settees and tables are of the natural wood with the bark left on, while the seats and backs and tops of tables are of polished maple slats or woven reeds.

"Old Hickory," made of the natural wood with the bark on, still holds its own. Seats and backs of chairs are made of hand-woven strips of the inner bark of the hickory tree; tops of tables and stools are made of finished natural hickory.

We also show a very artistic line of Weathered Oak Furniture, together with a large line of porch swings in natural finished wood, weathered oak and wicker.

A liberal assortment of the new Bungalow Furniture is also shown. These pieces are strongly made, with woven open sides and backs, cane seats and frames of rounded oak. The collection comprises chairs, rockers, settees, tables, window seats, &c.

We will prepay all freight charges on Furniture, Beds, Bedding, Linens, China, &c., required for the furnishing of summer homes at the seashore and mountains in the near-by States.
